Argument on Hoiding Him as Witness Against Barbara Aub—Case Full of Mystery.

New York, Dec. 6. Ricorder Goff this afternoon in the court of general sessions discharged Walter I. S. Langerman from costody. Langerman was convicted of felonious assent on Barbara Aub in the general sessions court Nov. 28 but before sentence was passed on him the Aub woman confessed that she perjured herself. Recorder Goff sent Langerman to the house of detention as a witness against her.

Langerman was discharged upon the recommendation of the district attorney. The action of the district attorney was due to the remarks of Justice Andrews in the supreme court this merning when the signment was heard on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Langerman's lawyer for his release. Jastice Andrews then intimated that Recorder Goff had overstepped his authority is committing Langerman in St.000 ball. After Recorder Goff signed the order for Langerman's release, Assistant District Attorney Unger and the prisoner's counsel appeared before Justice Andrews and he granted permission to have the action begun this morning before bim discontinued.

BEACKMAIL CASE
Before the Court of Palmer, Mass.
PALMER, Mass., Deb. 4. George and Rossus Bouvier came hefore the court today to answer to a charge of blackmull. They pleaded not gality. The witnesses were not given much time to tell about the affair in Dr. Desmaria's soffice but were confined to what was said at the time the money was demanded. The testimony showed that no threat of criminal prosecution against the doctor had been midde but the damages had been demanded because of injuries sustained by the woman during the fraces. In his finality Judge Robinson said that Mr. and Mrs. Bouvier had a right to ask for damages if they felt that any had been sustained.

About Christmas Presents.

A Christmas present should be something lasting-something which in after years will serve to call up pleasant memories of the time and giver.

A Christmas present ought to be useful. If possible it should be beautiful, and it certainly ought to be something that isn't "cheap" in the sense of being an imitation of a good article.

Perhaps high grade silver ceptable a present as any other article that can be selected. It is something every housewife dotes on. It is something that helps to make a dinner palatable. In buying silver plated ware care should be exercised in going to reliable dealers. No matter, how good a judge you are, the safe way is to go where you can take the merchant's word for it.

We have always made a point of selling reliable hollow and flat silver plated ware. We propose to keep on doing so, If you come here for such presents, you can be perfectly sure of getting what you think you are getting.

On this point the President

At no time when honds have been issued has there been any consideration of the nuestion of paying the expenses of Covernment with their proceeds. There was no necessify to consider that nuestion the time of each bond issue we had a safe surplus in the Treasury for o dinary operations, exclusive of the gold to par reserve. In February, 1891, when the first issue of bonds was made, such surplus amounted to over $18,000,000, in November, when the second issue was made, it amounted to more than $12,000,000, and in February, 1895, when bonds for the third time were issued, such surplus amounted to more than $100,000,000. It now amounts to $93,-072,420,30.

In taking the remarkable attitude he has in dealing with the financial situation of the Treasury Department, the President has lost the support of many of the papers that heretofore have been his most earnest champions. We have aiready quoted quite fully from the Boston Herald touching the financial pertions of the message, and now take the following from the New York World, following from the New York World, based on the paragraph quoted above:

But the first bond issue put $58,000,000 into thei Ireasury in gold. Not one dollar of that gold could be drawn out except by thei turning in of a greenback dollar available for current expenses. Adding $58,000,000 to the $18,000,000 which the President says; was in the Treasury at the time, of the first bond issue, we have a surplus of $76,000,000 which should have been there—if revenues had teen smillstent—at the time of the second bond issue. Yet the President relix mithat at that time the surplus was only $12,000,000. That is to say, $34,000,000 of the gold received for bonds had been first converted into paper and then used for current expenses. There is no other explanation possible.

Again, the second bond issue added $85,000,000 in gold to the cashin the Irestory. Adding this to the $76,000,000 which should have been there if revenues had been adequate, there should have been assurpting of $13,000,000 at the time of the third bond issue. The $725000 to the $100,000,000 at the time of the third bond issue. The $725000 to the $100,000,000 of the gold for papert that $34,000,000 of the gold for the surplus. If there had been no expenditure of bond proceeds for lack of revenue this would have swelled the reserve in the Treasury to $302,000,000. But It amounts he had to surplus the surplus in a release as the samitaging on the surplus.

rowed on bonds $184,000,000 has been used for current expenses which would have been paid out of dridnary receipts if the revenue had not fallen short. It is also clear that but for the bond issues the Treasury would now be a debtor for current expensely which it could not pay. It he revenues had been abgoante gold hippers might perhaps have drawn out the yellow metal as freedy as they have done, but for every gold dollar drawn out there would now be a puper dollar in the Treasury. That paper dollar is not there, it has been speat, for lack of another dollar received as revenue, in payment of the Government's bills.

Whotever other caused there may have been for the circumstandes that compelled these bond issues the imadequacy of the revenues to meet the expenses of Government as cierly been a very po-

New York. Dec. 6. Brudstreet's tomorrow will say: General trade continues the features of preceding week—smaller volume, quiet in most lines—business being conducted conservatively, activity only among dealers in woulens, clothing, shoes and hardware. New orders are generally of a filling-in character. The season has evidenty been late, the prolonged mild weather having delayed orders until the Christons demand and belated autumn request came together. Notwithstanding the almost justicent report of quiet, and uncharges iav an alarm from box 51 brought out obscot streets. The fire was in the have but small damage. About half a ton of gether.
